CONTRACT IS APPROVED BY SYLVANIA WORKERS

ENDORSEMENT OF IAM-AFL IS UNANIMOUS

Officials of the International Association of Machinists, American Federation of Labor, and Sylvania representatives signed a 22-month contract, early this afternoon, as the result of a unanimous approval by the Union membership of the contract as submitted to a vote at two Union meetings held Wednesday in the Marconi Town club.

The contract covers approximately 500 employees in Sylvania's two Warren plants who have worked without a contract since they returned to their jobs several months ago against strike orders by the IUE-CIO, and subsequently voted to replace the CIO with the AFL. It was stated today that the 50 or 60 employees who have not signed the contract will have 30 days to do so. At the end of 30 days it is mandatory that they give up their jobs under the closed shop arrangement. New employees have no Union affiliation for the first 45 days, and may be discharged by the Company until such time as they become Union members after which time the Union is consulted.

Sylvania officials said today that negotiations for the new contract operated "very smoothly," and that it was felt the AFL will stimulate a better common interest between the Union and Sylvania. The same comment was made by the AFL committee, and its members expressed themselves as well pleased that they were paid by the Company for loss of time during negotiations, an unusual gesture on the part of any firm. Albert Book, president, and Foster Mize, vice president, headed the committee, composed of Samuel Brobst, Larry Henry, Mary Jane McCool, Edward Linder, Pauline Long, Clyde Lindgren, Velma Wholeben, Glen Ruhlman, and Ralph See. Two Warren men who are AFL representatives, Art White, business representative for District 65, and Peter Huff, Grand Lodge representative, gave their assistance.

Presentation of the IAM-AFL charter to the Warren local will be made in the near future. Although there were several minor changes in the contract approved yesterday as compared to the former contract with the IUE-CIO, local workers had no benefits removed from the document, while several benefits were added.

Soviet Legation At Israeli Is Packing

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union broke off diplomatic relations with Israel last night and the eight adults and one child at the Israeli legation here began packing at once to leave Moscow.

The Soviets acted, a government note to Israel said, because of the bomb explosion at the Soviet legation in Tel Aviv, Israel's capital, on Monday. The note, which Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky handed to Israel's minister here, Samuel Eliashov, accused Israeli government leaders of inciting hostile action against the Soviet Union.

The note turned aside subsequent explanations and apologies by the Israeli government and accused it of falsehoods, double dealing, and a "systematic fanning of hatred and enmity toward the Soviet Union and an incitement to hostile actions against the Soviet Union."

Lawmakers Devise Plan to Give Police And Firemen's Groups More State Aid

Harrisburg (AP)—Lawmakers moved today to make permanent a plan for giving police and firemen's pension funds in Pennsylvania more than five million dollars a year in state aid.

The plan, enacted on a temporary basis by the 1951 Legislature, calls for imposing a two per cent tax on all premiums of out-of-state insurance policies. The present law expired Dec. 31.

A bill, introduced by six Republican house members, would make the plan permanent instead of requiring approval by each session. Approved by the House Ways and

President Puts Aside Duties To Pay Tribute to Lincoln

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower joined today in tribute to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, the first Republican President.

Accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, the President attended Lincoln Birthday ceremonies at the memorial to the Civil War chief executive a few blocks from the White House.

The President walked between a colorful uniformed honor guard of servicemen representing the Air Force, the Navy, Army and Marines to lay a wreath of red and white gladioli at the huge, lighted statue of Lincoln in the Memorial Building.

Several hundred persons witnessed the ceremony. The skies were heavily overcast after a morning of rain. Among those on hand for the ceremony was Robert Todd Lincoln Beckwith, a great grandson of the Civil War president.

Eisenhower cut short his White House visiting list to attend the services. No visitors were scheduled after the Cabinet meeting—his third since his inauguration Jan. 20.

His first appointment this morning was with a delegation headed by President Lewis W. Jones of Rutgers University and George W. Bunn, president of the Abraham Lincoln Association. They presented the President with the first two sets—nine volumes each—of Lincolniana, published by the Rutgers University Press.

The 62-year-old President yesterday put in one of his busiest days since taking office. He was at his desk shortly after 3 a. m. and he didn't leave his office until 6:48 p. m.

In that time, the President made his decision not to set aside the death sentences imposed on Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the husband and wife convicted as atomic spies.

Eisenhower also dug into the problem of international trade relations in a meeting with leaders from Congress and government agencies.

Evacuation of Suez Planned Under New British-Egyptian Agreement on the Sudan

NEW APPEAL PLANNED FOR ROSENBERGS

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower has refused to spare the lives of the Rosenbergs, whose controversial death sentences for atomic spying he termed just punishment for a crime which "could very well result in the death of many, many thousands of innocent citizens."

A New York attorney for the husband and wife, Emanuel Bloch, said he would carry a new appeal to the Supreme Court, which on two previous occasions has refused to review the case. The court almost never changes its mind in such circumstances.

The Rosenbergs—Julius, 34, and Ethel, 36—received the word that the President had turned down their appeal in the death cell block at New York's Sing Sing Prison. They had no comment. They have insisted they are innocent.

Their electrocution, originally set for Jan. 24, had been delayed by Judge Irving R. Kaufman while the presidential appeal was pending. The judge's stay expires four days hence; he will then fix a new date for the death sentence to be carried out.

If it is, the Rosenbergs will be the first American civilians to pay with their lives for the crime of espionage against the U. S.

That fact has figured largely in the world-wide propaganda campaign, sparked by Communists, to save them. Pickets paraded in front of the White House. Others marched in New York's Times Square. In Paris, 400 Communists called at the U. S. Embassy to protest. The Daily Worker, Communist party paper in New York, ran a "Save the Rosenbergs" campaign.

Some non-Communists, too, thought the death sentence was too severe. Among these: Scientists Albert Einstein and Dr. Harold C. Urey, both of whom contributed to early work on the atomic bomb.

The Rosenbergs were sentenced April 5, 1951. Martin Sobell, 35, who was tried with them, was sentenced to 30 years in prison. David Greenglass, Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, also got 30 years after furnishing key testimony.

Names of Notables Mentioned in Trial

New York (AP)—Pat Ward, 19-year-old star prosecution witness in the vice trial of Minot Mickey Jelke, said she became a mother at the age of 17 as a result of being raped.

The copper-haired call girl was cross-examined for the first time yesterday during her three days of testimony against the man who reportedly jilted her for another woman.

Jelke, 23, heir to an oleomargarine fortune, has been accused of inducing Miss Ward and two other young women to become high-priced prostitutes and of living off the earnings of Miss Ward.

Miss Ward reportedly reeled off to the all-male jury another list of men who paid for her love, giving the dates and her fees—$50 to $100 a night.

Names seeping out of the closed-door hearing included film star Mickey Rooney, disc jockey Jack Elgen and comedian Joey Adams. All three denied knowing Miss Ward except through casual introductions or while in a crowd.

Market Basket Items On List for Decontrol

Washington (AP)—Market basket items like milk, butter and eggs were marked for price decontrol this week amid signs that emergency power to restore economic curbs might be kept.

A top official said a final decision will be made today on a long list of goods tentatively tabbed for removal from price ceilings by Friday or Saturday.

The list makes up 15 per cent of consumer goods in the cost of living index package, he said, and would leave less than that percentage still under control. It includes such things as:

Milk, butter, cheese, poultry, eggs, oleomargarine, cleansers, soap, lard and other shortening; rubber and rubber products; lead, tin, zinc and scrap; pet foods; paper and paper products.

Controls would remain, at least for the time being, on such important items as machinery, most automobiles and scarce metals.

Clearing and Warmer Weather on the Way

By The Associated Press
Rising temperatures, accompanied by light drizzle, turned Pennsylvania's roads into wet, slushy thoroughfares today in the wake of a snowstorm that struck the Keystone State late Wednesday.

Last night's snow was followed, in many sections; by freezing rain and kept state highway crews busy spreading clinders on the main roads.

The weatherman said temperatures would drop to freezing by nightfall but predicted clearing and warmer weather by tomorrow morning.

FOUR DIE IN COLLISION ON "DEATH PIKE"

Lebanon (AP)—Two Brooklyn, N. Y., couples were killed last night in an auto-truck crash on the snow-covered Pennsylvania Turnpike near the Lancaster-Lebanon Interchange 10 miles south of here.

The accident, termed by turnpike officials as the worst "multi-fatality in the history of the eastern extension of the toll road, raised the turnpike death toll to six in the last seven days.

All four victims were in the passenger car. A fifth occupant, a daughter of one of the couples, was admitted to Good Samaritan Hospital with severe shock and multiple lacerations.

Dead are Nathan Lipins, his wife, Esther, both about 45; and Max Kreamer, 54, and his wife, Rose, about 50.

Rhoda Lipins, 10, was reported in fair condition today by Good Samaritan Hospital authorities.

Witnesses told state police Kreamer was passing an empty auto carrier when he appeared to slide into the side of the vehicle and his car went into a spin. The auto then struck the medical strip dividing east and westbound traffic and somersaulted into the east-bound lane in a north and south position directly in front of an oncoming tractor-trailer.

Neither George Personette, 39, Campbell City, Ind., driver of the truck, nor Doland Lyons, 41, Edon, O., operator of the empty carrier, was injured.

Relatives of the dead families said the Kreamers were driving to McKeesport, to visit their son, Joseph.

The Lipins were travelling that far with them and then planned to continue alone to visit their daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Reisman of Youngstown, O.

Several cans of crushed baby food found in the wreck, and what was thought to be a reference to a "baby brother" by the young survivor, led police to search for some time for what was feared to be an infant victim of the accident.

A telephone call to relatives later indicated there was no baby in the automobile.

The accident scene was reported to be the worst in the recorded history of Lancaster County.

PROMINENT MASONIC LEADER PASSES AWAY

Scranton (AP)—David John Davis, 78, of nearby Dunmore, a prominent member of the Masonic order in Pennsylvania, died yesterday in Hanneemann Hospital following a prolonged illness.

Davis, former grand commander of the grand commandery, Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, took a leading role in the construction of the new Masonic Temple and Scottish Rite Cathedral in Scranton.

Davis was grand commander of Pennsylvania in 1938.

Provoo Guilty of Treason

New York (AP)—Former Army Sgt. John David Provoo was convicted last night of treason.

He faces a sentence that could be anything from five years in prison to death for treachery while a prisoner of the Japanese during World War II.

A Federal Court jury found him guilty of four overt acts of treason. It was unable to agree on three other treason allegations.

The good-looking, tall and square-jawed veteran was pale and tense as the court clerk read the jury's findings in detail. Judge Gregory F. Noonan scheduled a hearing on defense motions and sentencing for next Tuesday. The 35-year-old defendant was taken to the Federal House of Detention.

The defense had called Provoo and 34 other witnesses to back its contention that he remained loyal to the United States after his capture but had courted the favor of the Japanese so as to be in a position to get extra food and other benefits for his fellow prisoners.

John David Provoo

The defense also contended that Provoo's propaganda broadcasts for the Japanese were made after he had become convinced that refusal would lead to his execution.

D.A.R. Protests Removal of Trees and Damage Caused By Cars in Crescent Park

Holding a brief business session at the YWCA last evening in conjunction with its 42nd birthday party, General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, adopted a resolution protesting any further removal of trees in the western portion of Crescent Park and destruction of the parkway's edge by the parking of cars.

Feeling that if additional trees are taken out, the resulting vacant space will be used for parking instead of the hospital's own facilities for that purpose, chapter members voted their disapproval in these words:

"No trees are to be removed along the line of the park adjoining the street known as Crescent Park; and only two trees are to be removed inside the park during the calendar year of 1953."

Other business taken up by the chapter included election of a delegate who will accompany the regent, Mrs. W. G. Cable, to the National Society's continental congress sessions. Mrs. William Fuellhart was chosen for this honor, with Mrs. O. H. Baird, Miss Ethelyn Connelly, Miss Ethel DeForest and Mrs. Carleton Gay as alternates.

Members also voted to accept the generous invitation of Publisher W. A. Walker to hold their mid-summer picnic at Cinderella Lake on the Lover's Lane road.

The meeting followed dinner and a program in the dining room, where a long table was set in patriotic colors, with flowers, red and white tapers, ivy garlands and tiny colored cutouts. At each place was a United States flag booklet sent to the chapter by Congressman Leon H. Gavin.

Mrs. F. P. Kirwin, chaplain, gave the invocation and, following the serving, assisted the regent in the opening ritual. Guests were L. E. Stolz, Forest Service representative and guest speaker; Mrs. P. G. Weiler, sister of Mrs. Mabel Swanson, and Mrs. L. N. Schuler, Times-Mirror social editor.

Miss Florence Shawkley, program chairman, presented Mr. Stolz for an instructive talk on the DAR-sponsored Penny Pines Project. Reviewing the planting of 98,090 red pine seedlings on the former L. L. Hunter property at Tidoute, 48,000 in another near-by plot, and 35,000 on the Farnsworth, he traced the growth of the first two and told of the destruction of the third by an over-abundance of deer in the area. The final plantings, he said, had been placed on Sill Run in

ARIZONA STATEHOOD IS RECALLED BY DEATH

Washington (AP)—Ralph Henry Cameron, who guided Arizona to statehood and later became its Senator, died today.

The 88-year-old Phoenix mining man, who obtained statehood for Arizona while serving as the territory's delegate in Congress, was in Doctors Hospital here when he suffered a heart attack while on a business trip.

He contracted bronchial pneumonia later.

Cameron was the last territorial delegate to Congress from the last territory to join the Union. Cameron was a Republican.

MIDDLE EAST DEFENSE PLAN IS BOLSTERED

Cairo (AP)—Britain and Egypt today signed an agreement covering the future of Sudan, and Prime Minister Naguib's office said evacuation of British troops from the Suez Canal has been agreed upon in principle.

These are the two issues that have been separating Britain and Egypt. Solution of both could go a long way toward enlisting Egypt in the proposed Middle East Defense Command being framed by the West.

The Sudan is a million square mile area which Britain and Egypt have been running jointly since 1909. The agreement gives the eight million Sudanese the right to decide their ultimate future within three years. They could decide to join Egypt, join the British Commonwealth or set up an independent nation. Early elections for a parliament are planned under supervision of an Indian, an American, a Briton and two Sudanese.

As for the Suez Canal Zone, Gen. Naguib, in common with the preceding Egyptian governments, has demanded withdrawal of all British troops. A political adviser to Gen. Naguib, in asserting today that removal of the troops has been agreed upon in principle, said only technical details remain to be worked out. These, of course, might be stumbling blocks.

The Sudan agreement was signed by Gen. Naguib and Sir Ralph Stevenson, the British ambassador. Both expressed the wish to start discussions immediately on the Suez question, an Egyptian informant said.

London reports said Prime Minister Churchill's government would make an important statement on the Sudan in the House of Commons later today. The British Cabinet reportedly approved the agreement with Egypt during an hour-long meeting yesterday.

The agreement trims Britain's influence in the million-square-mile, cotton-growing land on the Upper Nile that she has ruled jointly with Egypt for 54 years.

Successive Cairo governments long have demanded that the British get out of the Sudan. In October, 1951, the Egyptian Parliament proclaimed the unity of the entire Nile Valley under the Egyptian crown.

Weather Warm On Korean Battlefront

Seoul (AP)—Fighting dwindled to small raids and patrol clashes on the Korean battlefront today as the warmest weather of the year carried into a second day.

The mercury climbed well above 40 across the 155-mile battle line. Rain swept the Western Front.

Overcast skies and poor visibility virtually halted Allied air activity.

Allied warplanes roared into clearing skies in the afternoon for fighter-bomber strikes and air battles with Communist MIG15s.

The fighter-bombers flattened eight buildings in a troop concentration area on the Western Front, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

Glorious Military Career Nears End For Gen. Van Fleet

Tokyo (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, smiling but misty-eyed as he neared the end of a glorious military career, left Tokyo for home and retirement today.

Immediately behind him was a record of 22 months as commander of the multinational U. S. Eighth Army in Korea. Directly ahead is an appearance before the Senate Armed Services Committee in Washington to explain his belief that an Allied offensive in Korea could be successful.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN CRASH AT CROSSING

Gaithersburg, Md. (AP)—A train-auto collision in near-freezing rain and fog here last night killed the car's four occupants, derailed the train and injured about a dozen crewmen and passengers.

The train, the Baltimore and Ohio's West Virginian, was on its way to Parkersburg, W. Va., from Washington, D. C., some 25 miles to the southeast. A railroad spokesman said the locomotive and tender and seven of its eight cars jumped the rails when the auto jammed a switch.

Assembly Battle Over Liquor Laws Is Promised by State Temperance Forces

Harrisburg (AP)—A General Assembly battle over Pennsylvania's liquor laws brewed today as temperance forces prepared bills to fight a move to open bars on Sunday.

"Our legislation should reach the House of Representatives by next Monday," said Dr. E. E. Ewing, Philadelphia, legislative representative of the Pennsylvania Temperance League.

Bills to extend the Saturday midnight deadline for selling drinks in public bars until 2 a. m. Sunday already are under study in both the House and Senate.

Dr. Ewing said he could not disclose the nature of the legislation now being prepared or who will be its sponsor. There has been speculation, however, that "dry" forces will present a counter demand that clubs, in addition to public drinking places, be closed at midnight on Saturday.

At present, private clubs are permitted to serve until 2 a. m. Sunday. On other nights they may close at 2 a. m. Public bars close at 2 a. m. through the week.

The Saturday midnight extension bill before the House would leave the issue up to local option. It is sponsored by Reps. Henry H. Ragot and Clair H. Feidy, Northampton County Republicans.

Meanwhile, Sen. A. H. Letzler (R-Clearfield), chairman of the Senate Law and Order Committee, which is holding the liquor bills, said he is contemplating no immediate action.

Over 150 Witness Premiere Showing Of Religious Film

Over 150 representatives of churches, Sunday Schools and public schools from Warren county, Bradford and the Jamestown area attended the premiere showing of Cathedral Films latest production "I Beheld His Glory," screened Monday night at Trinity Memorial Episcopal church. Other premieres were held in many of the principal cities where Cathedral Film libraries are located.

"I Beheld His Glory" is an outstanding 11 M.M. sound film in beautiful color, based on an original story by the Rev. John Evans, religious editor of The Chicago Tribune. It is the story of Cornelius Centurion who became a convert to Christianity after witnessing the Crucifixion and Resurrection of Jesus. As an eyewitness of Christ's last hours on earth, Cornelius discloses a truly compelling story. Thomas, the disciple, aids Cornelius in telling the story by describing the Last Supper and other stirring events which Cornelius himself did not witness.

This hour-long film is an appealing drama of an unusual religious experience. The real meaning of the Crucifixion and Resurrection of Jesus has never before been so forcefully told. Those who have viewed it expressed sincere appreciation for the invitation to witness this inspiring film.

"I Beheld His Glory" is distributed in the area by Religious and Educational Film Library Inc., of which Mrs. Arthur Crouse is the librarian. The local library is a Trade Barriers Fall as Schuman Plan Goes Into Action---

This month the famed Schuman Plan, more formally known as the European Coal-Steel Community, goes into effect among its six member nations. Customs duties, import and export quotas, transport rate discrimination and double pricing gradually will be eliminated to form a common market for France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. The ideal of the common market, unimpeded by the trade barriers mentioned above, may take five years for complete realization. But it is an important step toward the unification of Europe and the beginning of truly free competition. Says Jean Monnet, head of the Community: "Our experiment can be considered a test for the future stages of the construction of Europe."

France's Jean Monnet, right, author of the plan to batter down Europe's many trade barriers, meets with members of the council he heads, and which is intent upon lifting...

... Horse-and-buggy era trade restrictions. This first step towards a United States of Europe means that this French coal miner will be working hand in hand with...

... German steel workers to improve the material lot of the entire continent, not just for their separate nations. The common market for iron ore, scrap iron and steel will include...

... The six nations shaded on the map above. Such great industrial areas as the Saar and Ruhr will now work to build instead of to destroy a war-weary Europe.

Awards for Window Displays During Boy Scout Week Pose Serious Problem for Judges

WELL WORDED Well-educated men, such as librarians, biographers, engineers, and editors, have a working knowledge of not less than 50,000 words, according to estimates.

NOTICE I will not be responsible for any debts except those contracted by myself. Mrs. Flora E. Schanz Feb. 10-21.

John M. Lakas, Boy Scout activities chairman, complimented the many Scout units and their leaders who prepared window displays in connection with the celebration of the forty-third anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement in United States.

In several cases it was necessary to return and view the windows several times before a decision could be made by the judges. The excellence of the window displays resulted in very close competition for the best window display.

In the Cub section of the contest 14 windows were viewed with the one placed by Den 1 of Pack 36, Sheffield, coming out on top. Grace Bloss is Den mother and the window is on display at Epstein's in Sheffield. Second place goes to the window displayed at Cuthbertsons in Sheffield by Pack 35, also of Sheffield; third place was awarded to Pack 32 of Clear-endon, window at Millers Drug Store; Earl Brian, Cubmaster.

Boy Scout troop competition was just as difficult to judge with 15 windows displayed. Best display went to the window entered by Troop 6 of St. Joseph's church at Everts Hardware Store; Joe Ackis, Scoutmaster. Second place to Troop 9 of First Methodist Church, window at Metzger Wrights. Third place to Troop 20 of Lott'sville; Scoutmaster, Jim Fitzgerald; window on display at the Red and White Store. Ray Lewis is Scoutmaster of Troop 8.

Explorer competition was just as close as the others but with fewer competing windows. Newly organized Post 11 of Lacy P. T. A. walked off with top honors with the window displayed at the J. C. Penney Store; advisor is Dick Hedman. Post 36 of Sheffield, won second place with the window at Newbergs in Sheffield; Page Vashaw is the advisor. Third place goes to Post 6, window at Everts Store; Robert Cassell is the advisor.

John Kirk, Training Chairman for the Warren County Council, has announced plans for a Scout leaders' training course to be held at the EUB church, Youngsville, starting next Tuesday, February 14.

The course will be open to all Scoutmasters and assistants as well as Troop committeemen. The instructors for the course, as announced by Mr. Kirk, include Lewis Crippen, James Fitzgerald and Robert Shine, all veteran Scout leaders.

Subject matter for the course will deal with operation of the Patrol and Troop. The first session will begin at 7:30 p. m.

LINCOLN'S INSPIRED LIFE

There are many miracles about Abraham Lincoln and his legend.

One is that he is beloved by all Americans of whatever political faith. Adlai Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, quoted Lincoln in his speech of concession to General Eisenhower. Earlier in the campaign he had sought communion with Lincoln among historic buildings at Salem, Ill., where Young Abe had lived and worked in a store.

Lincoln, too, is a symbol to all the world of the best in the American ideal, standing for high statesmanship, great human compassion, homely simplicity, devotion to a cause.

A never-ending marvel is the way Lincoln appears to enjoy a rebirth within each decade or less. Already there are more than 3800 separate works devoted to his life and his times. One would think there was nothing left to be discovered or written about him, or about the great Civil War through which he brought the nation.

And still, within the last few years, brilliant new studies have come onto the scene to illumine this man.

With all that has been said of him, it probably will surprise many to learn that until last fall there was no single comprehensive yet compact biography of Lincoln by an American. The most reliable one-volume work was a 38-year-old effort by Lord Charnwood of Britain.

But now that gap has been filled, admirably, by the new single-volume study by Benjamin Thomas, a long-time Lincoln scholar who lives in Springfield, Ill., in continuously close touch with the Lincoln materials.

The Thomas book takes advantage of much new information that had been locked up in various sources only recently made available. It is a balanced, seasoned, real portrait of Lincoln.

Another genuine contribution to the story is the fuller biography, still in progress, by J. G. Randall, who is giving several volumes to Lincoln's years as President. Randall is the first to tackle Lincoln on a broad plane since Carl Sandburg's famous and dramatic presentation.

Then, Kenneth Williams is engaged upon what will probably be ranked as the authoritative version of the Civil War from the Union side. In this work he is matching the fine scholarship of Douglas Southall Freeman's works on Robert E. Lee and the Confederate campaigns.

It is often said history must be rewritten for each generation. If this is so, we in America, and our friends abroad, could hardly be more fortunate in the quality now being given to the re-telling of the Lincoln legend. In these new works, the inspiration of his life and his cause is fresh and vibrant and compelling.

YUGOSLAVIA IS WELCOME

The news is welcome that the time is drawing closer when Yugoslavia may join Greece and Turkey in a Balkan defense alliance against Russia.

Nobody needs to stress the importance of the Balkan area to the overall defense of the West. A successful Russian invasion here would turn the western flank and make Western Europe difficult if not impossible to protect.

It was recognition of that which finally brought Greece and Turkey into the NATO pact last year. Defense authorities understood their strategic value, and appreciated also that they rank among the stoutest foes of communism.

For many practical reasons, Yugoslavia could not be pulled into NATO. There is strong resistance to that on both sides. Nevertheless, the Yugoslavs, for all their Communist government, are seen as a powerful ally. The West wisely extends aid to Tito, and there have been informal strategy talks looking toward a linking of effort in event of a Russian attack.

The plan for a definite pact incorporating Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey is perhaps the strongest move that can be made formally to tie Tito into the NATO system. This regional arrangement would presumably have all the binding force of any military alliance, yet it would get around the embarrassing business of asking Tito to join the full family.

The Jack Pot Question

Here And There

Should Chris Welkin sacrifice one life to save two? This is a question foremost in the forth-coming story that swings into action in the popular strip cartoon running on the comic page of the Times-Mirror. Three men on a 21st Century expedition to unlock the secrets of Mercury, a weird, strange planet which has baffled astronomers since the Middle Ages, are caught in a trap set by a terrestrial villain and sprung by the mechanics of the universe. One man is hopelessly ensnared. To attempt to save him would mean a delay and all three would die. Our hero faces a tough decision. Either he must abandon a friend, leaving him to a slow, torturous death, or Welkin himself and another companion must be needlessly sacrificed. Although it is not apparent, there is a third solution—a one-in-a-million chance. The surprising answer to this problem is told in a thrilling story of space travel in the comic strip Chris Welkin, Planeteer.

Many old-timers will remember, to the younger generation it may come as a surprise, to learn that once upon a time back fifty years ago the Lodge of Odd Fellows owned a hall in a building located on the site of the present Warren National Bank, and when discussions started regarding the present structure plans were stalemated because the Three Linkers had no place to go. This situation is hinted at mildly in a story that appears on the first page of the February 12, 1953, issue of the Warren Evening Mirror, which says in part:

It seems that the matter of the Odd Fellows Hall should not stand in the onward path of improvement which will be permanent. Especially when it is considered that several hundred thousand dollars would be spent in erecting an office building such as a very few towns the size of Warren can hope to possess. From good information it is learned that bank officials have already made a liberal offer and overtures to the Odd Fellows and they now have these under consideration. The I.O.O.F. is one of the most progressive orders in the city and have done much for Warren in the past and it would seem most inconsistent with their policy to at this time hold back a much-needed improvement. A splendid hall is now being completed in the Park and Henry block on Hickory street and could be secured by the order or should a new building of their own be wished several desirable properties could be secured. The lodge would doubtless reap many fruits from the change and would aid the town to a great extent in its metropolitan appearance. The order is old enough and wealthy enough to erect a building of its own which would add to the town's appearance and would be a permanent home for time to come, besides a source of revenue for the order from rentals.

Terse, tart and timely: Youngsters residing in the vicinity of the Marconi Outing Club have been enjoying excellent ice skating on the "slip" between the clubhouse and the river the past few days. . . . According to word from Renovo three more dry holes were recently plugged and abandoned in the Leidy field. . . . In an unusual action every member of the Venango County Bar Association signed a petition urging Judge Lee A. McCracken to become a candidate to succeed himself as judge of the county courts. . . . The public is invited to attend a pie social and white elephant sale Saturday evening at the East Branch Grange hall, the money realized from the party to be put in a fund to paint the Grange building. . . . Herman (Ducky) Rothschild, veteran Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, says news of his retirement was premature, in spite of the fact that he has received his fifty-year service pin. . . . No Drastic Changes in Offing Is Secretary Benson's Word

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Don't anticipate any sweeping changes in the Department of Agriculture immediately. This is the word from new Secretary Ezra Taft Benson himself.

In spite of the fact that Secretary Benson was the first of the Eisenhower cabinet officers to announce reorganization in his department, he isn't making any other sensational moves right away. "Now is the time for deliberation, not haste," he says. His immediate staff has been holding two night meetings every week since they took office. They have been studying the responsibilities of the department and the spirit and the intent of Congress in the laws governing its operations.

The new secretary hopes he can emphasize freedom of action on the part of the farmers. He hopes he can maintain a high level of well-being on the part of the American people. He hopes for close relations with Congress, and that its policies will be his policies. He hopes these policies can be established without political bias. He would like to save the taxpayers some money.

This broad outline of Secretary Benson's approach to his new job was given in his first meeting with Washington reporters. He was the first of the cabinet members, incidentally, to hold a press conference. "I'm sure there will be many things on which we will differ," he said, "but I hope you will never doubt my sincerity."

KINDLINESS and good intent mark almost everything said by this Mormon apostle who has now become head of what his own first press release called a "huge, swollen bureaucracy." In a natty blue pin-stripe suit, he doesn't look at all like a farmer.

Secretary Benson showed a rare ability to give soft answers in turning away hard questions.

Did he think the present meat price situation called for any action by the department? "We're very much concerned."

Was he concerned about falling prices? "I'm more concerned about margins." He has two brothers, he said, who were losing money every day on cattle-feeding operations.

Would he fight for soil conservation work by his own department, or let it be done by Army Engineers? "That's rather controversial now." Did he plan drastic curtailment of soil conservation payments? "We are considering the question."

WHAT did the secretary think about taxing cooperatives? "I think it's a hot issue. Congress will settle it." Secretary Benson has of course been a co-op leader for 20 years and knows all about it.

What about the firing of Louis Bean, the political prophet—the first and only economy in the department to date?

(Mr. Bean returned from a European trip to find his job abolished, an action that has stirred up all Civil Service jobholders.)

"I have a high regard for Mr. Bean," said the secretary in his kindest manner. "He was an economic adviser to Secretary Brannan. I felt that the Bureau of Agricultural Economics would serve my purpose adequately. There was nothing personal in it. I'm sure there is a place in the department for Mr. Bean if he wants it."

So as news, the first meeting didn't produce an awful lot. There was a general policy statement, however, expressing the hope that farmers could get full, 100 per cent parity on all their commodities—perishables as well as basic crops—in a perfectly free and unregulated economy. But it was also said that price supports could take the farmer from disaster.

The big riddle this poses for the future is how you have a completely free enterprise economy and price supports at the same time.

This report showed that Mrs. Maasz had traveled over 1000 miles during the year caring for a total of 204 children. Included in this mileage were 28 trips to Erie, 4 to Polk State school, 1 to Pittsburgh, 1 to Elizabethtown Crippled Childrens Hospital, and 1 to the Penna's Rehabilitation Program's Clinic at Sharon.

There were 242 children attending the two diagnostic clinics held in Warren during the past year, and 11 children required operative procedures. Two artificial limbs, one wheel-chair, one walker, as well as many shoe corrections and other appliances were purchased by the committee during the year. Mrs. Maasz spoke at length of the assistance given the Warren County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The foundation pays the hospital bills and buys the braces and appliances for polio victims unable to provide this care for themselves, at the Warren County Crippled Childrens Committee assists the foundation by furnishing transportation to and from hospitals and clinics, and Mrs. Maasz supervises and teaches exercises prescribed by the attending physicians. A large part of her time is given over to this work.

Mr. Cray reported that the annual Easter Seal Sale for funds to supplement those given by the several service and interested friends could get under way on March 1st, and would continue to Easter Sunday. It is hoped that at least $5,000.00 can be realized from the sale of Easter Seals so that the accidents and crippling diseases that occur during this year may be cared for promptly, and the unfortunate children afflicted restored to normal health.

That European Look For U.S. Automobiles

AP Newsfeatures

CONTINENTAL lines are being adapted to American cars. The new models tend to look more and more like the machines which are being imported from Europe in increasing quantities. Automobile men say the standard models are tending toward sports car design. Low center of gravity and low overall height are being stressed. Here are three samples of the trends.

ITALIAN ideas went into the Nash, designed by Pinin Farina of Turin, Italy. The expanse of glass with few top supports shows the sports car idea. The hood is also low in front like some of the European cars.

A BREAK in the body line, plus wheels that show, has given Buick's skylark a continental look.

UNUSUALLY low overall height, wheels that show, low hood, lots of glass and absence of much chrome trimming mark the Studebaker design. They push it farther toward the European type than many of the other cars.

Lt. Inez Beers Is En Route to Japan

Russell—Relatives here have had word from Lt. Inez Beers, Army Nurse Corps, of her safe arrival in Seattle, Wash., from where she will go on to a new duty assignment in Japan.

Lt. Beers left Buffalo at 8:30 a. m. Sunday and arrived at Seattle at 6:30 p. m. (PST). She had been at home on a 30-day leave with her father, C. P. Beers, and other relatives after serving at Fort Eustis, Va., since her reenlistment in September, 1949.

Graduate of Russell High School in the Class of 1936, Miss Beers received her nursing training at St. John's Hospital in Cleveland, graduating there in 1940.

After one year of duty in that city, she enlisted in the Army and served three months at Hollabird Hospital in Maryland going overseas, she had 36 months' duty in Africa, Italy, Germany and France before returning to the States and being discharged from active duty. She remained in the Reserves, however, and had a three-year period of duty in Louisville General and Buffalo Veterans' Administration hospitals.

SURPRISE SHOWER FOR MRS. GRUBER

Sugar Grove — Mrs. Howard Onunk was hostess for a surprise shower honoring Mrs. Donald Gruber, other guests being members of the Methodist Sunday school class of which Mrs. Gruber had been teacher. The evening was spent with contests and games, with prizes going to the honored guest and Donna Strand.

Mrs. Gruber was presented with lovely gifts and lunch was served from a table done in blue and white and featuring a stork-decorated cake Mrs. Onunk was assisted by Mrs. Walter Sweeney and Mrs. Burt Schoonover.

Mrs. Roy Briggs has been chosen as the new teacher for the class.

Picture Recalls Early YW Event

While the January issue of The YWCA Magazine, given over entirely to the Centennial theme, was of interest to every member in the world wide organization, it was particularly so to those in Warren, who found in one of the early pictures two members of their own association, Mrs. U. S. Rogers and her sister, Miss Lottie Smith.

A double spread, captioned Notes From the Centennial Case Book, pictures delegates attending a 10-day conference at Silver Bay on Lake George, N. Y., in July 1918, with the two local members readily identifiable. Mrs. Rogers has served the local "Y" as treasurer since its organization and her sister is also a charter member.

Charmingly illustrated with Godey-like pictures and artwork, the magazine is crammed from cover to cover with thoughts of the past, the Centennial celebration in 1955 under general chairmanship of Mary French Rock-Next Hundred Years. The entire center portion is devoted to the YWCA Album demonstrating the truth of the ancient Chinese proverb: One picture is worth a thousand words.

CLARENDON AUXILIARY

President Christina Thompson was in charge of the regular meeting of Marshall Larsen Auxiliary, Clarendon VFW. Initiated into the group were four new members, Mrs. Mary Bullock, Mrs. Mary Valone, Mrs. Helen Cramer, and Mrs. Ellen Temple.

Chairman Helen Pusateri gave a report of the very successful card party staged February 3, and plans were discussed for a bake sale to be held March 21st, Mabel Nobles to serve as chairman.

Special guest of the evening was the district president, Mrs. Gertrude Fitch of Warren, who was remembered with a gift following an interesting talk. An altar cloth was presented to the auxiliary by its president. After the meeting, lunch was served by the committee, Christina Thompson and Ann Stalder.

Dr. Campbell Is Convention Guest

One of the names most prominently mentioned in connection with the annual convention of the Music Teachers National Association meeting jointly with the American Matthey Association in Cleveland February 19-20, is that of Warren's own musician, teacher and writer, Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell.

Not only will he be appearing on the lecture program for the convention, but a luncheon will be given in his honor on Thursday in the Netherlands Plaza Hotel.

One of the oldest of the charter members of the Matthey group in this country, Dr. Campbell formerly served it as vice president, and has been active in MTNA affairs for many years.

PRE-SCHOOL GROUP

The Pre-school Child Study Group held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Wendelboe, 128 Frank street, Mrs. Jessie Sanden, interior decorator, giving a very interesting talk on "The Psychology of Color in Relation to the Child."

She first gave a background of the original use of color to emphasize its importance in our lives today and pointed out the number of ways in which color is used. She then showed various samples of materials and wallpapers which could be used together to make attractive rooms for children.

Concluding, lunch was served by Mrs. Ed Betts, Mrs. Norman Smith, Mrs. Ray Ledebur, and the hostess.

YOUNG MOTHERS CLUB

The February meeting of the Young Mothers Study Club was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Mathis, Conewango avenue, extension, with a very interesting talk by Mrs. C. F. Hunkley, on "Art For the Younger Child." Members were asked to bring to the next meeting gifts of jelly for the Children's Home. Assisting the hostess for the evening were Mrs. J. R. Sugerman and Mrs. John Lasher.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Carr

Bouquets of white snapdragons and chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church Saturday, February 7, for the wedding of Margery Rita, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Ritchie, Warren-Jamestown road, and Pvt. Francis Stewart Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyell B. Carr, 10 West Third avenue, Warren.

The Rev. Beecher Rutledge, rector, read the double ring service at 3:00 p. m. Joan Wertz was at the organ for traditional wedding music and Donald Smith, vocalist, sang "Ave Maria", "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in lace trimmed white satin, styled with fitted bodice attached in points to a full skirt which ended in a train. Her pearls were the gift of the bridegroom and her bridal bouquet was fashioned of fleur-de-lamour and white hyacinths.

She was preceded by Lynn Holmquist, the little flower girl, wearing a pink gown and scattering pink rose petals. Lynne Anderson was maid of honor, bridesmaids were Shirley Peterson, Mrs. John Hanna, Jr., and Marybelle Carr, with Joan Fawcett as junior bridesmaid. All five wore cornflower blue gowns, with velvet bodices and stoles and full net skirts over taffeta. Their colonial bouquets were of pink roses and each wore pink pearls, her gift from the bride.

Ralph Hoffman served Pvt. Carr as best man and ushers were Robert Eames, Roger Parfitt, Walter Swanson, and Walter Seibert of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Ritchie chose silver gray, with beige and black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Carr was in navy, with accents of white and a pink rose corsage.

Following the ceremony, 150 guests were entertained in the church parlors, where tables were in pink and white, with pink snapdragons and white mums. Hostesses were aunts of the bride, Mrs. A. C. Fawcett, Mrs. G. Parfitt and Mrs. R. T. Hoag, who served the cake after the bride had cut the first piece with a ribbon-tied knife which was a gift from the bridegroom's grandmother. Mrs. J. F. Welch Mrs. Shirley Johnson, Sheffield, and Jeanne O'Connor, Buffalo, N. Y., poured and the aides were Betty Parkhurst and Mrs. Sally Babak, Buffalo, JoAnne Hickey, Clarendon.

Betty Roberts, Buffalo, was in charge of the guest book and the following were from out of town:

Ritchie, Janet and Jack Ritchie, West Lake, O.; Mrs. Betty Carr, Fairview Village, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Merchant, Saegertown; Mrs. Joseph Cochran, Joyce Cochran, McKean, Mrs. Charles Rogers, Sherman, N. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wenstran, Mrs. B. K. Connelly, Sandra Connelly, Ludlow. Also Walter Swanson and Ralph Hoffman, on leave before going overseas.

Leaving later in the evening for Las Cruces, N. M., where they will reside while Pvt. Carr is stationed at White Sands, the bride traveled in a blue suit, white top and hat, with a corsage which matched her bridal bouquet.

Both young people were Warren High graduates in 1949, the bride graduating in 1952 from Millard Fillmore School of Nursing and having since been employed at Warren General Hospital; the bridegroom having employment with the Bell Telephone Company before entering service in September, 1952.

Blue and Gold Banquet At Grace Methodist Church

The annual Blue and Gold banquet held Tuesday evening in Grace Methodist church by Cub Pack 2 is described as a most successful event. Tables were attractive and colorful with blue and gold streamers extending the length of the white covers, novel centerpieces and place cards made by each of the dens.

Cubmaster Dee Drayer presented Den Chiefs with tokens of appreciation and Clayton Bannon, neighborhood commissioner, gave a brief but interesting talk on Scouting. Ken Carlson made announcement the March study theme will be "Transportation."

Each den participated in the entertaining program, boys of one, five and six having group songs; Den 3 having a variety program; Dens 2 and 4 giving skits, and Den 6 conducting the closing ceremonies. Individuals participating in the Den 3 offerings were Dave Anderson, with a vocal number; Dick Fowler, Jim Chitester and Cortland Carlson, piano solos; Jim Nordine, accordion solo; Paul Johnson, baton twirling exhibition.

PHILATHIAN BIBLE CLASS HAS MEETING

Clarendon—The Philathian Bible Class held its regular meeting in the Methodist church parlors, with 13 persons in attendance. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Anna Dorsey on the subject "The Need of Prayer". After the opening hymn, "Tis So Sweet To Trust in Jesus", she read several interesting articles from "The Upper Room", and closed with prayer.

Routine reports were presented during the business session and several interesting letters were read. One of these was from Mrs. Margaret McBride, a recent member, now at the Cribbs Home in Meadville; another was from Mrs. Alice Patchen, also a former Clarendon resident and now a roommate of Mrs. McBride. Both wrote enthusiastically of the kindness, care, good food, in fact, the many homelike qualities of the Home, and both seem very happy in their new surroundings.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Verda Yagge entertained with colored slides taken in Germany by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Burkhardt. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Gertrude Daum and Mrs. Martha Schneider, from a table made lovely with Valentine decorations.

The next meeting will be Tuesday evening, March 3, with Mrs. Mabel Dykins and Mrs. Martha Sleeman as hostesses.

Young People Hold District Meeting At Sugar Grove

Sugar Grove—The local Free Methodist church was host to more than 60 young people and leaders at the mid-winter meeting of the M City District Young People's Missionary Society.

Under the leadership of the Rev. Howard Rose, eastern regional director of the YPMS, and Don Johnson, lay member of the general YPMS Council, the group gathered for an all-day spiritual workshop, which was climaxed by a district youth rally in the evening.

The morning session began with a challenging devotional message by the teen-age district president, Bruce Warner of Oil City. Mrs. Howard Rose was leader for group singing throughout the day.

A capacity audience filled the church for the evening rally, when the film, "Songs of Fanny Crosby," was shown. A special musical package featured a duet by Rev. and Mrs. Rose, a song by the local church chorus, and a number by the Youngville mixed quartet. The day's activities were brought to a close with a stirring message from Rev. Rose.

Good Jazz Music For "Sock Hop"

For a little of that old Gene Krupa jazz band music, Chairman Kenny Williams urges all young people to turn out and hear the Heffernan Quartet at the Phalanx Club's Sock Hop in the YMCA gym this Saturday night.

The combo consists of Ed Heffernan on the drums, Lonnie Lytle playing the bass, Jerry Fisher at the piano, and Louie Valli with the sax.

Committee chairmen for the affair include Stu Winerter, refreshments; Al Kondak, publicity and posters; and Jim Stevenson, door. All members are requested to report to the "Y" at 5:00 to help decorate and to remain after the dance to clean up.

Brownies Fly-Up In Ceremonial

Sugar Grove—Highlight of the regular Girl Scout meeting, held in the home economics house, was the Brownie Fly-up ceremony, in which the following became Girl Scouts: Jean Allen, Ann Allenson, Mary Sweeney, Margaret Lord, Lynda Brown, Sharon Atkins, Carolyn Sweeney, Janet Gruber and Judy Jones.

Mrs. James Conner, executive director of the Warren-Forest Council, and Mrs. Barbara Vascomecellos, field worker, were present to review and take part in the ceremony. Talks were given by Mrs. Conner and Mrs. A. A. Grant.

The older Scouts patrol demonstrated one of the many things learned in Scouting by giving a square dance; the younger group staged a puppet show, with puppets and stage made entirely by the girls. Mrs. Dorothy Stewart directed the show and Mrs. John Stuart painted the scenery.

Mrs. Fred Bauer and Mrs. Darwin Curtis presented the new Scouts with pins and the latter served as pianist for the program.

Concluding, refreshments were provided by the troop committee.

If the value of the 1935-39 dollar is taken as 100, the 1915 dollars were worth 137.9 cents and those of 1952, 53 cents.

Youngville Class Holds Dinner For 7th Anniversary

The BIC Class of Youngville Evangelical United Brethren church celebrated its seventh anniversary with a delicious chicken dinner served by the Ladies Aid of the Pittsfield EUB church.

There were 44 members and three guests in attendance to enjoy a program under the direction of the planning committee. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Steuart, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Albaugh.

Th Rev. H. V. Lindquist and James Cowan favored with two violin duets, and a quartet composed of Walter Forsberg, Bill Meleen, James Thompson and Al Aiel-lo delighted with several selections. Mrs. Gladys Meleen pleased with a humorous reading and Harold Thompson led the group in the class song.

During the program, Mrs. Steuart circulated the scrapbook which she is compiling and members greatly enjoyed the accumulation of pictures and news items relative to the progress of the organization.

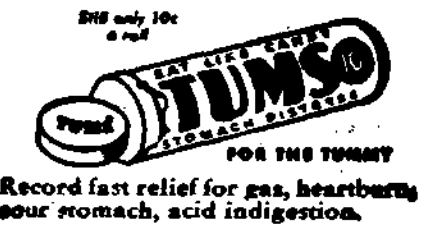

A highlight of the evening's entertainment was the response from each couple concerning "when and why" they started attending BIC Class.

Mr. Aiello, class president, took charge of the business session, during which the teacher, Lewis Crippen, led the devotions.

The group was disappointed that Rev. Strong, pastor of the church when the class was organized in 1946, was not able to be present. A letter from him was read and much enjoyed, after which a card was circulated for signatures and will be mailed to the ailing minister.

1865 Paper Describes Assassination

—Timesphoto by Saylor.

TODAY MARKS THE 144th ANNIVERSARY of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, which reminded Clare Lowe of Warren RD 3, that he was in possession of a copy of the New York Herald of April 15, 1865, the front page of which is pictured above. Mr. Lowe very kindly brought the relic to the Times-Mirror. He advised that it was found in an old house at Venturatown, formerly owned and occupied by the late Carl Morganroth, a Civil War veteran who is buried in the Veterans' Circle in Oakland cemetery.

The 88-year-old newspaper is printed on excellent quality pulpwood paper and is in a good state of preservation. Besides the assassination of President Lincoln, the front page describes the "dastardly attack" on Secretary Seward, who was stabbed in his bed, and told of the injury to his sons, Clarence and Frederick. It stated that the assassin was recognized by an actress and orchestra leader in Ford's Theatre as John Wilkes Booth, also an actor.

The front page carries other interesting news items, entitled "The Rebels, Jeff. Davis at Danville, His Latest Appeal to His Deluded Followers," "Rebel Particulars of the Battle of Petersburg," "Lee's Army Supposed to be in a Safe Position," and "Evacuation of the Rebel Capital."

Inside the paper is a double page advertisement for "Kitchen's Spavin Cure," "Kitchen's Liniment," and "Kitchen's Wind and Puff Cure."

On another page are such articles as "The Cabinet in Council on the Reconstruction Program," "Sherman, His Army Moving," "Grant, Execution of Details of the Surrender," "The Army Taking Position Along the Southern Railroad," and a description of the surrender refusals of Southern Generals Rosser and Fitzhugh Lee. It also reports that "The Ram, Albemarle, has been raised in good condition."

Deputy Collectors Are Indicted by Grand Jury

Pittsburgh (AP)—Three former deputy income tax collectors face trials on charges of extorting $4,101 from a Homestead tavern operator.

A federal grand jury yesterday indicted Frederick H. Altmeyer of New Kensington and Stanley J. Barczak and Joseph S. Baysek Jr. both of Pittsburgh. They were charged with extortion and conspiracy.

The three are accused of plotting with Cafe Operator Harry Feldman to make an illegal settlement of taxes he owed the government. The government claims the ex-collectors took $5,183 from Feldman although his actual unpaid taxes amounted to $1,082.

Gunfighter's Return by Leslie Ernenwein

Chapter Fourteen
WARILY, with a calculating caution that guarded against stepping on a dead branch or scuffing a stone, Rimbaud followed the tracks through a screening growth of greasewood. When he was within a few yards of the crest he crouched low, inching forward with a patient stealth until he glimpsed the steeped crown of a gray hat directly ahead of him.
Rising to his full height now, Rimbaud saw a huge man hunkered behind a low barricade of rimrock. Coarse black hair hung down to the greasy collar of his tan shirt. He had been engaged in rolling a cigarette; now he thumbed a match aflame, lit his cigarette, and eased into a more comfortable position. Giving him a deliberate appraisal, Rimbaud observed that he wasn't wearing a holstered gun, which seemed odd. Then he saw a Winchester tilted against the rock outcrop with a shell-lined cartridge belt beside it.
As if sensing surveillance, the big man turned his head in the slow way of a ponderous range bull. When his broad-jawed face came around Rimbaud asked, "Are you Booger Bill?"
He nodded, and peered at Rimbaud's leveled gun. Revealing neither surprise nor anger, he got up, discarded the cigarette, and asked sullenly, "Who be you?"
"Name of Rimbaud."
Booger Bill stared at him, demanding, "Jim Rimbaud?"
"Yeah."
"But Lew said you was layin' drunk in town," Booger Bill objected.
Rimbaud eased around to the Winchester. "You can't believe everything Stromberg tells you," he chided. "Lew is a great hand for funning."
"He wasn't funnin' me," Bill insisted solemnly. "Lew said you was drunk and wouldn't be out here for a couple days. Said you was on a rip-roarin' spree."
"You're trespassing on private property," Rimbaud announced. "Get off it."
Perspiration made its oily shine on the dark unchanging mask of Booger Bill's thick-muscled face. "You can't run me off, Sheriff. I swore me in as a deputy, which means I got a right to be here."
"I'm telling you to vamoose."
When Booger Bill made no move to leave, Rimbaud wagged the gun and ordered harshly, "Go on."
All the brute power of the man blazed in a queer red brilliance that stained his eyes as he belowered. "Nobody runs me off, by God."
Even then Rimbaud couldn't quite believe it until Booger Bill lunged at him both huge fists cocked high like clubs poised for pounding.
He made a broad target for a bullet. And he was as violently destructive as an enraged bull. Swiftly stepping aside, Jim slashed at Booger Bill's head with his gun barrel, struck a clubbed fist, and distinctly heard the crack of a bone breaking.
Booger Bill yelped. He wheeled and charged again, shouting, "I'll stomp your guts into the ground!"
CALMLY now, with the intent calculation of a man sledging a beef steer, Rimbaud hit him on the head. Dust puffed from the barrel-dented hat. Booger Bill staggered on for a few steps. He peered about in blind confusion and said thickly, "I stomp."
Then his slack-jawed mouth sagged open and he went down in the slow, knees-bended fashion of a tired horse wanting to roll.
Rimbaud holstered his pistol. He picked up Bill's cartridge belt and buckled it around his hips, then examined the Winchester and found it fully loaded. He had lost a similar rifle in Mexico and thought: This will come in handy.
Then he stepped over to Booger Bill and nudged him with a boot saying, "Wake up, bully boy. Wake up!"
Booger Bill grunted. His eyes opened and he blinked against the sunlight and demanded, "What's goin' on?"
"You are," Rimbaud said. He prodded Booger Bill with the Winchester and ordered, "Get on your rump and ride out of here."
Bill rubbed his head in amazement of a man awake and dazed from a drunkard's dream. "I must've stubbed my toe on a rock," he muttered. Then memory came to him and he said, "You pistol whipped me! That's what you done. Pistol-whipped me!"
He held up his bruised left hand and peered at it. "You busted my thumb," he accused.
"I'll bust your head too if you don't get a move on," Rimbaud warned without pity.
Booger Bill stood up. A sluggish smoldering resentment showed in his eyes now, but the wildness was gone. He peered intently at Rimbaud for a moment, then asked him for the first time and wanting to remember him. Then he turned and walked down the ridge toward his horse.
Trailing along behind, Rimbaud watched Booger Bill support himself against the horse. The big man called, "I'll pay you back, Rimbaud."
Then he climbed clumsily into the saddle and rode southward, not looking back.
So now there's three of them wanting my scalp, Rimbaud thought. Link, Jubal, and Booger Bill. But it occurred to him that Lew Stromberg would probably hate him the most. And because there was a cautious streak in Stromberg, the Roman Four boys would be the most dangerous foe. (To be continued)

Pittsburgh (AP)—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Alfred J. Ackerman, Burgess and justice of the peace at nearby Whitaker, after Dist. Atty. James F. Malone filed 117 criminal charges against him.

The charges resulted from an investigation of justices of the peace and magistrates in Allegheny County by Malone's office. The charges range from doubling fees to collecting for hearings that were not held.

RAILROAD HAS CAVE-IN
Maintenance workers of the Pennsylvania Railroad are filling in a gaping hole which developed between the lines of the old Renovo Division and the Buffalo Division at the Lovell's Station Crossing east of Corry. Quicksand which undermined the area caused the earth to drop away, leaving a hole about ten feet deep and eight feet in diameter midway between the tracks. Not any of the railroad property was damaged.

MOTORIST INJURED
John P. Kern, 30, a salesman from Cleveland, O., escaped with a fractured right collarbone about 2:30 p. m. yesterday when a 1951 Ford sedan he was driving was completely demolished on Route 27 about one mile the other side of Grand Valley. Kern was taken by a passing motorist to the office of a Youngsville physician, and then to Warren General Hospital emergency ward where he was treated and discharged. State police, who investigated, said that Kern was on his way down Goodwill Hill, the scene of many accidents, when his car struck an icy patch in the road and rolled over.

Unusual Entertainer Is Much Enjoyed By Talk of Month Club

Despite last night's sleet storm and hazardous driving conditions, Warren Talk of the Month Club members turned out in large numbers for the final number of this season's schedule, the incomparable George Jason, humorist, pianist, and magician.

The entertainer's delightful personality was soon apparent to his audience as his entire program of "Mirth, Music, and Magic" was one that put his listeners in a jovial mood at a feeling that the season had come to a most successful conclusion.

Beginning with a few facts about his early life in the Georgian Republic where Joseph Stalin was a 2144-cousin, Mr. Jason pointed out "there wasn't room for other us, so I left."

Dividing his program into three distinct acts, his fund of delightful stories set the mood for Mirth; his Chopin numbers and one of his own compositions labeled him as a talented pianist and provided the music; his hocus-pocus with the hand-is-faster-than-the-eye business brought down the house and let it mystified with Magic.

Members attending were provided with questionnaires on which to vote their preferences concerning the types of lecture-entertainment to be booked for next season.

Uniform Commercial Code Is on Agenda

Harrisburg (P)—The Senate has delayed action on the biggest bill of the 1953 General Assembly—a 366-page uniform commercial code.

The code would regulate handling of commercial or legal papers such as mortgages.

The sponsor of the measure, Sen.

John M. Walker (R-Allegheny), asked yesterday that the bulky bill be placed in position for final passage next Monday.

He said it had been prepared by a team of "legal experts" over a five-year period and if necessary could be amended later by the House.

It is believed that the art of making stained glass windows was originated about the ninth Century.

THE LINCOLN COUNTRY

Sketched on the Spot by Ralph Lane

NO. 6—THE CIRCUIT RIDER
The Metamora courthouse in Woodford County, Ill., northeast of Peoria, is preserved as one of the many Lincoln memorials. In the early days in Illinois it was the custom for lawyers to accompany circuit judges and represent litigants in cases to be held. The days were long, the traveling arduous and the pay small. Lincoln, like any other budding lawyer of the day, spent eight months out of the year riding the old Eighth Circuit to practice law. Historians are in agreement that these years of legal practice had much to do with the understanding of human nature and his later greatness.

Still standing on its original site is the Great Eastern railway station in Springfield, Ill., from which Lincoln sawy downpour, the presidency of the U. S. From the train, to his friends, Lincoln delivered his touching "farewell address" to his friends. He had lived in Springfield for 25 years, and many friends, rose to prominence, married, and watched his boys grow. With great humility he thanked the people, for he felt he had been given a tremendous task and asked the Divine Being for guidance that lay before him as chief executive.

Discrimination Is Ruled Out in Bill Before Legislature

Harrisburg (AP)—State and local governments, including school boards, would be prohibited from discriminating because of race, creed or national origin in hiring employees under a new House bill.

The measure, introduced yesterday by Rep. Thomas P. Geer (R-Allegheny), would ban any questioning of a job applicant on his ancestral or religious background.

A fair employment practices board would be created with an appropriation of $300,000 to handle administration and enforcement of the bill. The board also would be authorized to carry on an educational program against discrimination in employment.

Another important new bill would lower the general speed limit on the Pennsylvania Turnpike from 70 to 60 miles an hour. Introduced by Rep. Nolan F. Ziegler (R-Dauphin) the bill carries the endorsement of auto clubs and Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner.

Other new House bills would: Require all plants employing 100 or more persons to engage one or more physicians and registered nurses—Reps. George J. Saaraf and Walter T. Kamyk (D-Allegheny).

Raise the fine from $300 to $500 on school districts employing teachers with emergency certificates for more than two years—Rep. Ellis E. Ferster (R-Snyder).

Include wholesale and importing distributors under the local option provision of the state liquor control laws—Reps. William F. Barkdoll (R-Franklin) and William H. McCullough (R-Lawrence).

Extend disability payments to state police injured in performance of duty—Reps. Ray W. Greenwood (R-Yorking) and Robert F. Kent (R-Crawford).

Prohibit the use of diesel motors in coal mines—Rep. Edward Dunn (R-Northumberland).

Explorer Troop No. 1 Has Interesting Program for Week

Explorer Post No. 1 of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church has been busy along with Scouts all over the nation in observing National Boy Scout Week. Starting Friday afternoon with an overnight camping trip on the Six Mile, and a ten-mile hike Saturday up the Four Mile with dinner cooked along the trail, the outdoor portion of the program was served in genuine Scouting fashion.

Sunday morning at eleven o'clock the Post attended Scout Sunday service at Trinity church in a body, accompanied by Cub Scouts, other Scouts and Scouters of the church membership.

Monday evening at six o'clock a committee of mothers served a twelve dinner in honor of members of the Post in the dining hall of the parish house. The Rev. Beecher Rutledge opened with the invocation. Guests included Dr. Wm. Ball of the Scout Council, Rex Biekarc and Glenn Werner of the vestry and their wives.

Fred Gaghan was awarded Star Rank and Stephen Coe, Harold Keck and David Hoffman were presented Life Rank badges.

Dr. Ball congratulated the Post on their fine record of advancement, which includes one Eagle Scout, three Life Scouts, two Star and three First Class Scouts. The following badges were awarded:

Scholarship, Tom Erickson; cooking, Louis Crittelli; cooking scholarship, Dave Lopez and Roger Johnson; nature, fishing, community citizenship, national citizenship, scholarship, Steve Coe; citizenship, scholarship, first aid, citizenship in the home and citizenship in the community, Harold Keck; astronomy, citizenship in the nation and scholarship, Dave Hoffman; citizenship in the community, public health, Fred Gaghan; citizenship in the nation and physical development, Rae Seely.

Following the awards the group, at the invitation of the rector, attended the previewing of the picture "I Beheld His Glory."

The Post is now planning a county-wide Explorer party, scheduled for March 16 with movies and a program of entertainment for Explorer Scouts and Scouts nearing Explorer age as their guests.

CRUDE PRODUCTION
The daily average production of crude oil and lease condensate for the week ending Jan. 31 was 6,522,300 barrels according to a release by the American Petroleum Institute. This amount includes 93,900 barrels of lease condensate mixed with crude oil, losing its identity as such. Reports received from refining companies indicate that the industry as a whole ran to stills on a Bureau of Mines basis approximately 6,923,000 barrels of crude oil daily and produced 23,329,000 barrels of gasoline; 2,952,000 barrels of kerosene; 10,535,000 barrels of distillate fuel oil; and 8,831,000 barrels of residual fuel oil during the week. In storage there were 149,443,000 barrels of finished and unfinished gasoline; 23,292,000 barrels of kerosene; 82,148,000 barrels of distillate fuel oil; and 46,356,000 barrels of residual fuel oil on Jan. 31.

Small Portion Of County Population Receiving Relief

Seven-tenths per cent of Warren county's population was listed on the state's public assistance rolls during the latter half of January, according to a release of data by Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, secretary. This represents 205 persons or 225 cases for the county.

Seasonal factors caused Pennsylvania's public assistance rolls to increase slightly during the period. The state increase of 406 persons was the net result of increases of 369 persons in general assistance, 223 in aid to dependent children, and 128 in aid to disabled and decreases of 490 persons in old-age assistance and 24 in blind pensions.

The number of persons on the rolls in the state at the end of January totaled 226,092 which was 30,451, or about 12 percent, less than the number receiving assistance at the end of January a year ago.

Factors tending to increase the rolls at this time was explained as being layoffs of workers who were hired temporarily to help out during the holiday trade rush; inability of older school children to fill fulltime jobs during the winter; continued high levels of living costs which make it difficult or even impossible for large families with low income to make ends meet; and temporary layoffs or cutbacks in some industries because of slack periods for inventory or changeover to new lines.

The persons, cases and percentage on the relief rolls for the last half of January in the 13-county area in the district follows:

County	Persons	Cases	Percent
McKean	1,425	899	2.5
Cameron	60	49	0.9
Clarion	1,004	559	2.6
Clearfield	3,894	1,868	4.5
Crawford	1,835	1,138	0.9
Elk	421	303	1.2
Erie	3,200	2,193	1.5
Forest	66	49	1.3
Jefferson	2,090	1,196	4.2
Potter	850	519	8.1
Toga	1,400	942	3.9
Venango	1,140	766	1.7
Warren	295	225	0.7

Employment Shows Decrease in January

Employment in Warren decreased a little more than one per cent during January according to David W. Levine, Manager of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service Office. This decline was based on data supplied by 49 area firms accounting for more than 7,500 of the sector's jobs. The adverse trend was due entirely to the furloughing of temporary workers in the retail and wholesale trade group. All other categories reported minor changes.

Currently, the number of jobs for the concerns included in the monthly survey exceeds last year's level by 2.8 per cent with all divisions, except contractors, indicating higher totals. There was practically no change in the number of men on district payrolls during the past twelve months; expansion occurred in those lines normally utilizing a high ratio of females.

Mr. Levine stated that during the last week in January, 312 persons filed for Unemployment Compensation benefits; the corresponding figure for December was 297 and for a year ago, 245. The employment official explained that the volume of claims changed little during the past 30 days since many of those separated were people not normally in the labor market.

It takes about a pound of feed to produce every dozen eggs.

Tugboat Strike Is Ended in New York

New York (AP)—Tugboats scurried around the world's largest harbor today to clear up a backlog of work that piled up during 10 days of a strike by AFL crewmen. Settlement of the strike was announced yesterday afternoon, and the tugs resumed operations in the evening.

They worked through the night helping berth freighters and liners which had anchored in New York's outer harbor while waiting for a tow. Other tugs started moving fuel, food and other supplies across the Hudson River from New Jersey to New York City.

OLD INDUSTRIES

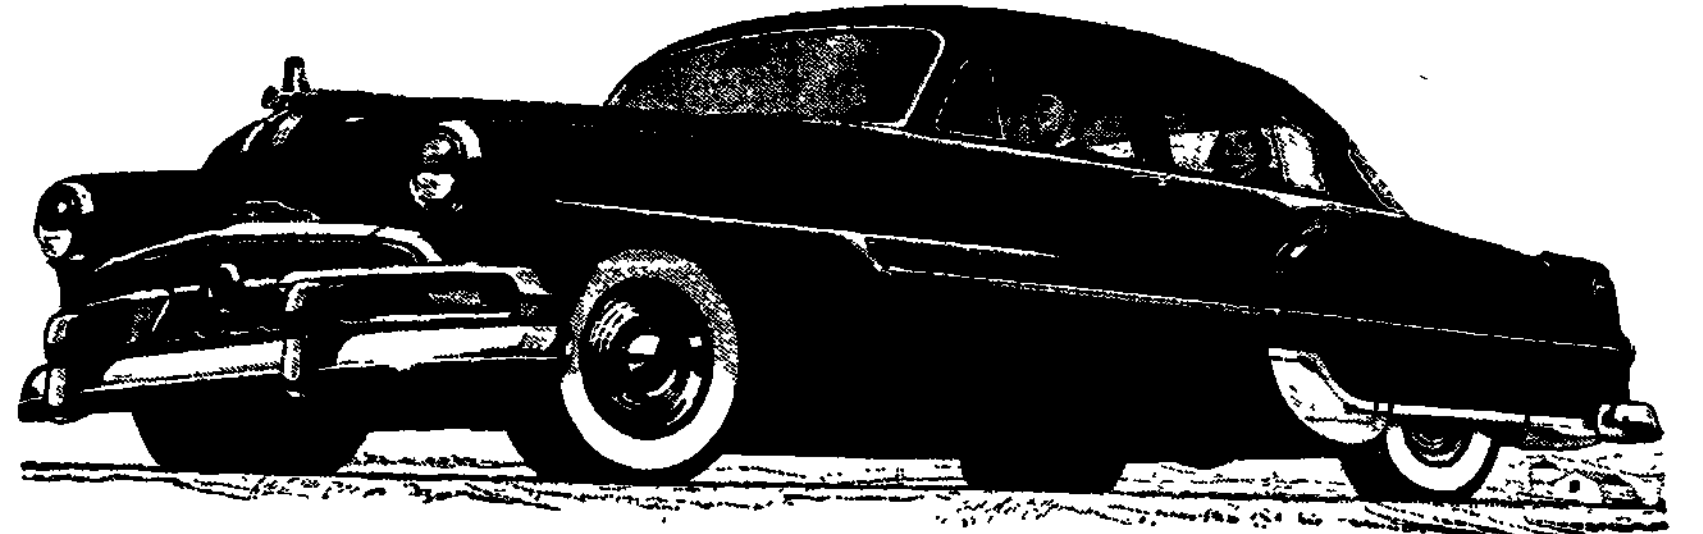

Among the oldest industries still extant in England, exclusive of hunting and fishing, are those of hurdle-making and flint-knapping. The latter is the chipping of flints for use in flintlock weapons, etc.

Firemen at Corydon Are Planning Ham Dinner Saturday

Corydon—Local firemen are looking forward to a good attendance for their ham dinner to be staged Saturday evening in the IOOF hall. With the thought in mind of purchasing a much-needed new fire truck, and additional work on the new fire hall, the department is also planning a number of future benefit affairs.

Mrs. Olive Fair and Lena Schuler were co-hostesses at the meeting of the Church of the Nazarene. In addition to sewing, dinner was served to members and invited guests. Present were Rev. Viola Doverspike, who led devotions, Mrs. B. M. Stoltz, Mrs. Fair, Miss Schuler, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ruth, Jack Ruth, Mrs. Eugene Crooks, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jarrett Sr., Mrs. George Akers and Jacob Schuler.

Among card activities was the Corydon Afternoon Card Group meeting held with Mrs. George Black, and the meeting of M and M Club members at the home of Mrs. Ann Zdanewich. At both gatherings, five hundred was played, with the awarding of prizes, and each concluded with a supper luncheon.

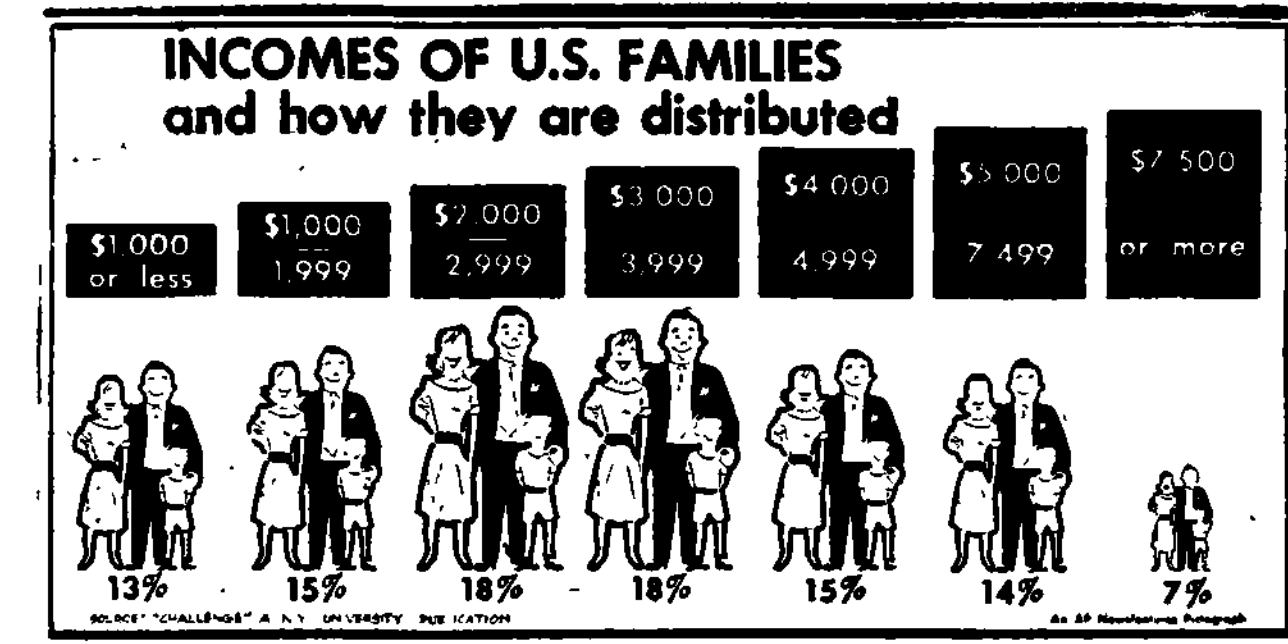

Paul Duntley, well known local resident, is a member of a committee for institute meetings conducted by Pomona Grange.

Mrs. Fred Davis and children and Mrs. Cloyd Snyder and family attended a program presented at West Branch school Friday, where Carolyn Davis and Roger Snyder are among students.

Jack Ruth, Oil City, was a guest of the Samuel Ruths and the George Sieberts.

Mrs. Thelma Sabosky, Jamestown, a former resident, visited local relatives.

Letters to the Editor

Pittsburgh, Feb. 6, 1953

There is no way in which we can thank you enough for the wonderful help you gave us during the 1953 March of Dimes. The final figures have not been tallied up as yet but there is every indication that we have gone well over last year's record.

It is because of your cooperation that it was a success. The Mothers' March on Polio, especially, would have meant nothing without the constant plugging you gave it. In every area which has reported so far—even the incomplete ones—there is a marked increase in the number and amount of contributions.

It's a pleasure to report too that the work of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is beginning to pay dividends after sixteen years of heart-breaking work. With the startling reports on the success of gamma globulin and the possibility of a new vaccine, we are looking forward to possible complete control of the disease in the next few years. Until then the fight against polio must go on.

Thank you many, many times again.

Sincerely yours
Harry Kodinsky.

AGREEMENT REACHED—Speaker of the House Joseph Martin, left, and Ohio Sen. Robert A. Taft, Senate Majority Leader, leave the White House following a conference with President Eisenhower. Pressure on the Pocketbook Seems to be Easing a Little

New York (AP)—The cost of living's slip is showing. So far, the easing in the pressure on the pocketbook has been only slight, and only in some places.

No big drop in prices of goods that consumers buy is expected. And families may find the cost of some of the things they now consider necessities will go up a little.

But food costs are now three to five per cent lower than this time last year, according to government estimates.

The price drops in recent months in the commodity markets are finally showing up in the retail stores.

Housewives are pleasantly surprised when they price meat in the butchershops. They find the price tags on most clothing items lower than a year ago. It costs a little less to furnish a house.

Many wholesale commodity prices are back to their pre-Korean War level.

The rub, of course, comes when you compare the new-and-slightly-lower prices in the stores now with the prices before World War II.

The cost of living index still rides high above its pre-war level. Retail price averages are about twice as high as they were 13

On-Job Training Is Taken by Practical Nurses at Hospital

With the nationwide shortage of nurses being felt in Warren, 18 local women are now engaged in the study of practical nursing at Warren General Hospital, and it is anticipated that with the passage of pending legislation they will be allowed to have full registration in the state. At the present time the practical nurse finds ready employment over a wide range of cases.

Miss Hazel Smith, superintendent at Warren General, said today there is a scarcity of nurses at the local hospital from time to time. For example, 15 nurses are on private duty there today, this representing practically all the available nurses in Warren. She said that invaluable help is being rendered by the married nurses even though they can fit into their schedule only a certain number of days' nursing each week. There is a definite shortage of nurses for operating room duty, Miss Smith said.

While on-the-job training is available here, the hospital at Sharon has a practical nurses' school in addition to its regular nursing school. The practical nurse takes training quite similar to that provided for Red Cross nurses' aides.

Warren Wrestlers at Johnsonburg Tonight

OVERS HERE URSDAY TO OSE SEASON

Whether or not Warren High's wrestling team finishes the season at least an even record may be determined this evening when the team travels to Johnsonburg for a match on the JHS mats at 7 p.m.

Presently the Blue and White wrestlers have won three, lost one and tied one during the campaign and still have the possibility of winning Coach Homer Barr the winning team in the second of his career. Last season the team had a 5-3 record.

Over City, earlier 39-11 victory over Warren, will help the Dragons in their dual competition next Thursday at Beatty gym.

U. Cummings, Glenn Coo't and Brown will all be defending records tonight. Lou still remains as the only undefeated on with seven consecutive wins. Cook has only lost one in his tries, and Brown is owner of 11 account.

When the Barrmen met Johnsonburg at Beatty they won seven 11 bouts, two by forfeit and six by favorites again tonight. Monday the Dragons reound-om two straight losses and Old City, 28-20.

A probable lineup for tonight's match is as follows:

1-L. Cummings vs. unknown
2-W. Miller (1-5-1) vs. Blint
3-B. Smith (3-3-1) vs. Mann
4-B. Landers (2-3) vs. unknown
5-D. Brown (5-2) vs. Salter
6-L. Hanson (3-1) or F
h (1-2) vs. McClintock
7-G. Cook (6-1) vs. Gighotti
8-C. Eaton (1-6) vs. Faight
9-S. Olson (0-7) vs. Sallack
10-D. Cummings (3-4) vs. sir.
11-W. Pittman (3-4) vs. ill.

Triumphant Gavilan Clamors For a Shot at Middleweight Crown After Beating Davey

Chicago (AP)—Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan, fresh from obliterating TV's top boxing attraction, cruelly outclassed Chuck Davey, clamored today for a shot at the middleweight crown against Randy Turpin or Bobo Olson.

The Davey invincibility myth was exploded last night by a 10th-round technical knockout in Chicago Stadium.

A crowd of 17,450 paid a record welter bout gross gate of $275,454. "It's now middleweights for me," said the jaunty Gavilan, unmarked after his triumph. "I want to take on Turpin or Olson. Either one after this tournament business."

He was referring to the elimination tourney proposed to screen some 11 contenders for Sugar Ray Robinson's vacated 160-pound title.

"Let Turpin or Olson find out who is champion and then I fight that guy," said Gavilan, who already has knocked five of the middleweights trying to elbow into the title picture.

Before Davey, gasping desperately for breath on his stool was unable to come out for the 10th round, Gavilan had felled him four times—once in the third and three times in the brutal ninth.

Gavilan weighed 146½, Davey 147.

This match—or mis-match as ring experts contended since it first was announced—was a cruel awakening to the legions of TV fans mesmerized by Davey's cute southpaw style, which had riddled two washed-up ex-champions, Ike Williams and Rocky Graziano.

And yet, on points, Davey was making a battle of it. This was because Gavilan let the blond gamester get off the hook in the third round and then fooled around by switching southpaw himself in the fifth and part of the sixth round.

Gavilan conceded after the fight that he knew he could put Davey away any time after the third. Even fighting as a left-hander, Gavilan was accorded no worse than a draw in the fifth and sixth and one official even gave him both rounds. But the maneuver underscored the fact the Kid was not rushing a knockout.

It was Davey's trainer, Issy Kline, who prevented Chuck from staggering out for the 10th round, as Davey wanted to do.

Rockets Score 49-43 Victory Over Company H at Oil City

The Battalion Headquarters undefeated Company H team of Oil City, proved to be little competition for the Rockets last night, when the Maroon clad locals sent it down to defeat, 49-43, on the Oil City Armory floor.

Splitting their individual scoring very evenly, the Rockets nosed ahead, 8-5, in the opening canto, found themselves in a 27-27 deadlock at intermission, and then dropped in the winning points in an odd 9-3 third frame.

Joe Guiffre topped Warren's scoring with nine points, while Elmer Meilander, Fran Masterson, Rog Babcock and Bob Guiffre each collected eight. Game honors went to Sweet of Oil City for his 15 points and he was followed by Gayetty and Quinlan with 12 and 11 respectively.

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★ Largest Field in History Is Set For Stock-Car Grand National

NEW YORK (NEA)—In one respect, Daytona Beach, Fla., is just like Olivia, N. C., or Fort Worth, Tex., or Los Angeles, only more so. That is, everybody down there is talking about the NASCAR Grand National Championships, Feb. 14-15.

"This year's show should top 'em all," said a guy who keeps pretty well informed on stock-car racing. "The best drivers will be there—the great Tim Flock, his brother Fonty, Herb Thomas, Lee Petty, Jack Smith and Dick Rathman, among others."

The Grand National is the World Series of stock-car racing. Smith is the defending champion, though Tim Flock set the pace last year only to be disqualified at the end of the race.

Curious, this bash tourist once took a lesson in stock-car driving from Bill France, the man behind the Grand National. "Going down the straightaway," thundered France, who was at the wheel, "you put your foot in the motor—that is, depress the gas pedal as far as it will go. Holding the accelerator flat on the floor boards, you proceed to the turn, at which point you will be moving anywhere between 80 and 100 miles an hour, depending on your car and the size of the track."

"Now you 'back off'—lift your foot for a heartbeat—as the rear end begins to whip around in a skid. You gotta be quick now, pal. A touch on the brake may roll you over faster than you can yell 'double indemnity.' Don't fool with the brakes. Get back on the gas pedal and twist the steering wheel toward the outside of the turn. You are now in what is known as a 'broadside.'"

Grimacing like a small boy with a new toy, France hollered, "You horse the car around the corner by brute force, and steer it with varying pressures on the accelerator." Expertly he brought the car out of the spin and slowed down to a stop. The lesson was over.

This broadsiding is almost unbelievably hard on tires. After you stop, you look back and see that the track is black with burned rubber, and chunks of the tread may be found lying around. Dust and not tire failure, explained France, is the thing stock-car drivers dread most.

Often the boys can't even see their own radiator caps.

Staley Signs, Cards Now Look to Del Rice

St. Louis (AP)—With pitcher Gerry Staley finally agreed to terms the St. Louis Cardinals have but one big holdout for the 1953 season—catcher Del Rice.

Staley, who won 17 games while losing 14 last season, came to terms yesterday after a long wait by the Cardinal office.

No salary figure was announced, but the report has Staley pegged for a little more than $20,000, giving him a small increase over 1952.

Owner Fred Saigh was blunt about his troubles with Rice, the man who has been the No. 1 Card catcher for several seasons and just as consistent a spring holdout. "We've made Del our best offer," Saigh said—a figure presumably no higher than $15,000.

Nepco Beats Y-Picks In Playoff Encounter

In a post-season playoff game in the YMCA Volleyball League yesterday afternoon, the New Process champs defeated the Y-Picks 2-1 (15-7, 21-13, 10-15).

Tony Morelli, John Smith, Bill Hunt and Dan Lucia formed the winning combination, while Doc Krespan, Bob Wilson and Fran Morris were the players in the Y-Picks team.

The next game will be Monday, February 16, followed by another on Wednesday. Game time is 5:00 p. m.

PROSPECTIVE CHAMP
Penn State's light-heavyweight boxer, Adam Kois, of Uniontown, is rated a prospective intercollegiate champion.

Sugar Grove Girls Beat Local Y-Teens in Double Overtime

The Warren Y-Teens lost a one two-point in the first extra thrilling, 23-22 double overtime decision to the Sugar Grove High girls' team last night, in a contest played at Sugar Grove.

Sugar Grove started strong in the last canto, taking a 13-6 lead, but the local lassies staged a 10-point rally the last half to knot the game 17 all. Each team tallied one two-pointer in the first extra, three minutes, and then in the second overtime the Grovers edged the Y-Teens, 4-3.

Dot Titus led the Warren scoring with 10 points, J. Kronenwetter and P. Mader each had two, J. Miller hit for four, Jean DeLong scored three, and Faith Mong tallied one. The guards were G. McDonald, L. Wert and M. Sharp and they were also helped by Mong and Miller.

Score by quarters:
Sugar Grove . . . 13 2 2 2 4-23
Y-Teens 6 1 6 4 2 3-22

Eddie Bell Enters Army Sans Diploma

Philadelphia (AP)—All-American Eddie Bell of the University of Pennsylvania enters the Army today a few months short of his college graduation.

Bell was the choice of the Philadelphia Eagles in the recent National Football League draft and the Negro gridders said he hopes to play with the pros when he finally gets out of the Army.

A senior at Penn this year, Bell also plans to finish his undergraduate work and enter law school, following his military service.

YONKERS DATES GIVEN

Dates for the two annual $25,000 mile-and-a-half features at Yonkers Raceway have been announced. The fourth Yonkers Derby will take place on Aug. 20 and the fourth Gotham Trot on Oct. 15. Both dates are Thursdays.

TRACK MANAGER
Penn State's graduate manager of athletics, H. R. "Doc" Gilbert, was track manager as an undergraduate.

Not Enough Stress on Baseball

Lafayette, Ind.—(NEA)—Eddie Dancisak charges that inadequate high school and college coaching more than anything else accounts for the dearth of professional baseball players.

"Baseball is still the top sport in the United States," points out the Braves' midwest scout, "but why is it that high schools and colleges will let some assistant football or basketball coach who doesn't know a thing about baseball handle the program? It doesn't make sense."

"These kids don't learn a thing and when we sign 'em we've got a green kid who hardly knows the fundamentals of baseball."

THE FIGHT AGAINST THE FLU

EGGS HELP OUT—In Detroit, the Parke-Davis Company is buying eggs by the carload to make influenza vaccine. As part of a very involved process, different strains of virus are mixed in proper proportions by workers behind glass doors, upper left, and poured into a steel "pooling" tank. At right is a close-up of the actual virus being injected into incubated eggs. After the shells are broken by special torches, lower left, the vacuum pump sucks out the virus. Dr. Edward Rotarius, of the company, is inoculating employe Dorothy Spondike with a shot, right.

FINN TWIN TROUBLE—Another chapter in the struggle between the U. S. Government and the identical Finn twins occurred in Tonapah, Nev. When FBI agents arrived to arrest one twin named Charles—without a warrant—they found both twins facing them. Charles, upper, and George were armed and guarding their $100,000 surplus plane the government claims they bought illegally. When the agents return with a warrant, they won't be able to tell the twins apart.

STEPPING IT UP—Members of a mountain-trooper unit of Japan's National Safety Corps send up sprays of snow as they execute a kick turn during training in Hokkaido. The Corps was begun soon after the start of the Korean conflict and has the strength of several divisions.

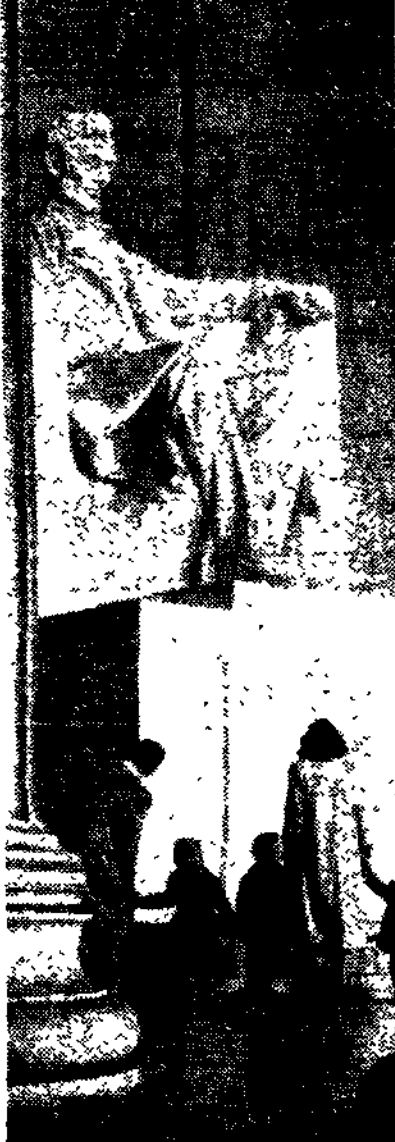

PICTURE NEWS AROUND THE WORLD

ARTICLES OF WAR—Soldiers of a Viet Nam mobile unit search a town in central Indo-China for enemy troops and equipment, after encircling Communist Viet Minh units. In foreground are sections of a 75-mm. gun which had been buried in the village by the Viet Nameese.

SOMETHING TO SEE—And which is most impressive in Cypress Gardens, Fla., is for you to decide. But lovely Toni Gaines is a welcome sight in herself as she stands beneath a spreading Travelers Palm and adds to the well-known tree more charm than most tourists get to see when they visit this spot.

REMEMBERED — A young couple with their children stop for a moment in Washington, D. C., to pay tribute to Lincoln, at the famed Lincoln Memorial. This spot draws thousands of tourists on sight-seeing trips every year for Abe Lincoln's memory is ever green in U. S. history.

NAP WITHOUT SACK—A U. S. Army medic is caught taking a nap at a forward aid station in a sandbagged bunker on the Korean front. The slumbering GI grabbed his 40 winks while awaiting the return of a UN raiding party. His sleep will continue uninterrupted only if the patrol suffers no casualties. If it does, his work is cut out for him.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS—As they arrived in New York by air from Brussels, Belgium, four-year-old Evelyn Rosenbaum evidently gave her tiny sister, Ethel, a lesson in how to turn on the charm for the cameraman. The youngsters were en route to Montreal, Canada, with their mother, after a visit to their grandparents in Brussels. It was the second round-trip crossing for the tots.

HE'S ALL SET—And dressed for comfort and style, too, in a new Handi Panti top and trunks set of cotton plisse. The shirt is styled like his daddy's, and those matching trunks are lined with plastic. Another fashion highlight is the club collar, and those bare feet are just the thing to set off so much style.

BLUES IN THE ZOO—Perhaps this sad rhinoceros has just received his income tax forms at the Bronx, N. Y., zoo, and is trying to figure a way to make both ends meet. Or he may have just awakened from a lovely dream, in which he was wallowing freely in the wide open African awamps, to find himself still imprisoned behind those strong bars that make life so dull.

SOME FEATURES TO BE OBTAINED THROUGH AN INVESTMENT IN ONE OF THE LEADING INVESTMENT TRUST FUNDS...

Source of Income... An interest in many separate issues of bonds, preferred and common stocks... thus many separate sources of income.

Administration... A large city bank receives and disburses all funds... holds all securities... registers shares.

Convenience... The companies represented by the securities in the fund's investment list, in the aggregate, distribute many hundreds of separate items of income... however, four quarterly checks from each fund, direct from the bank, saves the shareholder a great deal of effort involved in handling a large number of separate checks and simplifies bookkeeping and tax reporting work.

Management... The investments are selected, reviewed and constantly supervised by an experienced staff whose full time duty is management of the funds under supervision.

Income... Distributions of investment income are made four times a year to the extent of available net investment income.

Ready Liquidity... On demand of shareholders, the bank is required to liquidate shares at the market value of the portfolio securities at the time of liquidation.

Ask us for a prospectus on any of the leading funds... no charge and, of course, no obligation.
